Project Title: Draft Environmental Impact Report for the 2017 Update to the Contra Costa Countywide Comprehensive Transportation Plan (CTP) (SCH# 2017022054)

Description of Project: As required by Measure J, CCTA must prepare a Countywide Transportation Plan (CTP). The CTP provides the overall direction and a coordinated approach for achieving and maintaining a balanced and functional transportation system within the county while strengthening links between land use decisions and transportation. It outlines the CCTA's vision for Contra Costa, and the goals, strategies and specific projects, programs, and other actions for achieving that vision. The projects and programs included in the CTP are comprised of a mix of highway, arterial, transit, operational, and non-motorized improvements. The 2017 CTP updates the prior CTP adopted in 2009.

Project Location: The project will apply throughout Contra Costa County, one of nine counties that make up the San Francisco Bay Area.

Purpose of the EIR: The Draft EIR is intended to inform CCTA decision makers, other responsible agencies and the general public of the potential environmental consequences associated with the Project, and identify mitigation measures that would reduce or avoid those impacts. The Draft EIR is a program-level analysis of the environmental effects associated with Project implementation through the year 2040. The Draft EIR includes information pertaining to the environmental setting, potential Project impact analysis and mitigation measures on the topics of Transportation and Circulation, Air Quality, Greenhouse Gases and Climate Change, Agricultural resources, Biological Resources, Cultural Resources, Geology and Seismicity, Hazardous Materials, Hydrology and Water Resources, Land Use, Population and Housing, Noise, and Visual Resources. Alternatives to the Project, and specifically to its Long-Range Transportation Investment Program, are also addressed.
